ATLANTA CHAPTER MEETING THEME: Refrigeration

January was an exciting month for the Atlanta Chapter. After returning from the holiday break, we had an excellent meeting discussing Variable Refrigerant Flow on January 10th to a packed house. John Brantley gave an informative discussion on the efficiency and operation of using a variable refrigerant system. Thanks to Henry Slack for continuing to bring some great programs to our chapter members

The winter meeting and show was a big success. The number of exhibits and visitors at the show were records despite the difficulties in flying into Chicago that Friday.

- ASHRAE Society has a brand new logo and a completely revamped website. Go to ASHRAE.ORG and take a look
- Starting in 2013 the DRC will no longer sit on Members Council.
- Each region will have a separate person to sit on Members Council. This person will be nominated by the CRC caucus and appointed by the Society president, very similar to way ARC's are now.
- Tom Phoenix, from the North Piedmont Chapter, a past DRC in Region IV was nominated as Treasurer of Society. He will be on the annual ballot this spring and to start his term as society Treasurer this July. That puts him in line to be our society president in 2014-2015. CONGRATULATIONS Tom!!
- Update to Standard 189
- ASHRAE, IAMPO Sign MOU to Advance Building Environment Codes and Standards

The Atlanta Chapter also sponsored two students to attend the Winter ASHRAE meeting in Chicago. Sam Birdsong and Ben Sleister both learned about all aspects of all industry and hopefully started to form some building blocks to a long career in the HVAC industry.

In February, we have a special Valentine's Day special with a case study on the Georgia Tech Clough Building. This project had an extensive design process and Georgia Tech is using the building as a research center. The discussion will focus on the concept of the building and what is currently going on in the building. We will have Adam Bare, the lead mechanical engineer on the project; Gregory Spiro, the senior mechanical engineer for Georgia Tech; and Trevor Wolf, who is a graduate student, will discuss his involvement in some of the research projects in the building.

This month we will focus on refrigeration, which is the reason that ASHRAE exists today. We will be having a brewery tour on February 25 at 2:30 PM. We look forward to seeing all the members join us for this event.

I look forward to seeing you at our next chapter event.

Chapter Information

How to Join ASHRAE?

Go to <http://www.ashraeatlanta.org/> to start the process, click “Membership” on the horizontal menu bar. On the pull down menu, click “Join”. Enter your email address in the box “Verify your E-mail status”. A prospective member will then be directed to enter his or her email information. As a new member, your address will not be recognized, and you will be invited to “Register Now”. After you complete registration, you will be directed to the Individual Information page where you can finally select “Join ASHRAE”!

Prospective members under 30 years of age may consider the Affiliate Membership, which starts at only $50/year! This year we have received very few membership advancement applications. I encourage each of you to check your membership status. You may be an Associate Member, but if you are a PE or have at least 15 years of HVAC experience, you may be eligible to upgrade to a Member. It does not cost you any money. You just need to fill out bio-data online and inform ASHRAE. The “Update Your Bio” menu option is located on the left hand side of the “Member Central” panel on the ASHRAE home page.

ASHRAE Announces Redesign

ASHRAE has unveiled its redesigned Website, www.ASHRAE.org. With this redesign comes better navigation, a better search engine and better tracking, all of which will help ASHRAE members find the information they need, whether it's for their role in the industry or ASHRAE.

The simplified site navigation is now broken into six tabbed sections:

- Resources & Publications (formerly Publications)
- Standards, Research, & Technology (formerly Technology)
- Education & Certification (formerly separate sections of Education and Certification)
- Society Groups (contains information formerly under Members and About Us)
- Government Affairs (formerly Advocacy)
- Membership & Conferences (formerly separate sections of membership and events)

This redesign coincides with the ASHRAE rebranding, and both were announced during the Society's 2012 Winter Conference held Jan. 21-25, in Chicago.

"This is the most significant update to ASHRAE.org since the site was first launched 17 years ago," President Ron Jarnagin said during the plenary session at the Chicago conference in unveiling the redesign. "As Presidential Member Richard Hayter told us back in 1995, 'The ASHRAE Home Page will enable practitioners in the HVAC&R industry to easily access information about ASHRAE and HVAC&R technology.' The same remains true today – just on a much larger scale. The redesign involved moving 6,000 pages of information."

When the site first launched in 1995, ASHRAE averaged around 500 visitors per day. By the year 2002, that figure had grown to some 3,000 user sessions daily. In 2005, ASHRAE celebrated as it reached its 1 millionth visitor to the site. By comparison, so far this year, ASHRAE.org has racked up nearly 2 million page views.

"No doubt, ASHRAE.org is perhaps the Society's greatest tool in providing services to members, particularly those who live outside North America," Jarnagin said.

The redesigned site is based on research consisting of member surveys and interviews, market research and competitive analysis.

Please address any questions to webmaster@ashrae.org.
